Wild Wing Café® Alcohol Service Policy

It is the policy of Wild Wing Café (the "Company") that no minor (any person under the age of majority who is prohibited from being served alcoholic beverages under applicable law) or intoxicated person shall be served alcoholic beverages under any circumstances. Employees who willfully violate this policy will be terminated immediately. Any employee who negligently serves a minor or an intoxicated person will be counseled on proper service technique and will be terminated on the second violation of this policy. Employees will obtain the required Tennessee Alcoholic Beverage Commission server permit within sixty (60) days of employment and will take the mandatory five (5) hour server training course on the responsible sale and service of alcohol as required by the Tennessee Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

Employees must request and review proper identification documentation (such as a valid state driver's license, passport or other form of identification issued by governmental authorities) for all persons ordering any alcoholic beverage. When attempting to illegally purchase alcohol, minors usually exhibit behavior that should be easily identifiable by a properly trained server or seller. As with anyone who is attempting a dishonest act, minors may appear anxious or nervous; stutter, stammer or confuse their words; avoid eye contact with the server or seller; appear overly or inappropriately friendly, confident, boisterous or outgoing.

When serving alcoholic beverages to the Company's customers, all employees shall take reasonable precautions to ensure that the person being served is legally permitted to purchase alcoholic beverages. Taking steps to prevent alcohol abuse in the Company's establishments can help protect the public from harm and keep you, as an employee, from being named in a liquor liability law suit.

As an alcohol server, you should know the laws and regulations concerning the serving and consumption of alcohol within licensed establishments. Serving minors and intoxicated persons is unlawful and may result in criminal penalties. Furthermore, if an intoxicated person, after leaving our establishment, should be involved in an accident, anyone who may be injured may file a lawsuit against you and/or the Company.

Follow some simple guidelines when serving alcohol and prevent this from happening to you or the Company. Serve one drink at a time and never bring two or three drinks at once to a single person. If someone arrives or begins to show any sign of over-consumption of alcohol or remotely appears to be intoxicated, it is your job to make sure you do not over serve the individual. The following are some suggestions of ways to slow down consumption if you suspect there is a possibility of over-serving the individual or group:

- Offer or suggest the sale of protein food or appetizers.
- Do not offer coffee or other caffeinated drink; this may cover the true extent of the patron's intoxication.

- Suggest low alcohol content or filling drinks such as ice cream drinks.
- Serve water or fruit juices with all straight drinks.

Despite all your efforts, a customer may become intoxicated and should not be served additional alcohol. If this occurs, every effort should be made to stop alcohol service. Here are some suggestions to use when “cutting off” a customer.

- Avoid a confrontation.
- Do not attempt any physical confrontation.
- Make the manager and all personnel aware of the problem.
- Bring menus to the table or casually suggest an appetizer.
- Suggest an alternative form of transportation. If the patron insists on driving report this to your supervisor at once.

It is essential that a manager be aware of any potential situation where you, as a server, believe there is a chance of over-serving a guest or serving a minor. Remember, if a guest is over-served and leaves the restaurant and hurts someone, the authorities may likely hold you responsible along with the Company and management of the restaurant. It is possible that you could be called to court and even be subject to criminal penalties. Always remember-there is no reason over-service should occur and absolutely no reason that a minor should be served alcoholic beverages. Use your own “common sense” as well as what you have learned in your training with the Company, in your ABC Server Certification course and taking into consideration the above helpful hints.

If you follow these guidelines and act in a responsible manner, you are far less likely to be involved in any incident that may have an adverse effect on you, our patrons and the Company.

Thank you for your cooperation.
